Wagner Will Ask Governor to Send Special Message to I their Legislature.

Seinter Elon R. Brown, Republican leader, spent yesterday in this dity investigating the ice aituation with Senator Wagner. Statistics were gathered and these will be presented to the Legislature and the Governor in arguing for the immediate passes of the bill.

"The thing to do is to act now before it becomes too late," said Senator Wagner. "All this talk of the practical difficulties that lie in the way of the State entering the ice business makes State entering the ice business makes may tred. The details will be worked out. The State's power is supreme. We will get the men to cut the joe, the places to store it and the city piers to distribute it from. We must get the ice new, while it is in the river.

city and in the two members who may be appointed from his own commission and in the three men who may be named by the Governor with the appreval of the State Senate. They will have the power to insist ypon the very things Mr. Hervey refers to. If this situation is ever to be actually solved trust and confidence will have to be placed in somebody. The problem is far greater than the adjustment of the facilities of the New York Central Railroad. We have been startled by the apparent blindness and lack of appreciation on the part of the city and the State to the vitally serious situation confronting them."

This city, Mr. Van Benschoten saft, would have to prepare commercial facilities to meet the increased demands that would come after the war.

RUSSIA AND THE RUSSIANS IN THEIR HOUR O

A gripping, vital description of a nation in the agony of unrest, written by John Reed, the author, just appointed Consul-General to New York by the Bolsheviki. No such picture of the stricken country has been given as this, which presents graphically the writhings of a whole people under the lash of rebellion. It gives the scenes that occurred on a journey from Stockholm at the moment of the Korniloff revolt, when the followers of Trotzky and Lenine and the Red Guard were just beginning to show their heads.

Germany and a Holy War

Dr. HARRY STUERMER

A German war correspondent who has renounced his own country tells in stirring fashion of Berlin's efforts to stir up religious feeling against the Christians in Turkey through threats, bribery and corruption. One of the really sensational stories of the war.

Rare Views of Old New York

reproduced from the fámous collection of the late John D. Crimmins, every one a gem and well worth framing, will be found in the Pictorial Section. Art lovers will find here an opportunity to acquire examples of the finest efforts in engraving, photography and lithographing that may never occur again. The city of other days is a subject of never failing interest.

The Code Duello of the Air

EDWIN C. HILL

The ancient days of chivalry have been revived and in the old knightly fashion warriors meet in mortal combat. But how different are the weapons! Now instead of rapiers and earth it is aeroplanes and machine guns, miles above the earth.

A PEACE MESSAGE FROM THE POPE

An important contribution from Benedict XV. to the sympostum of world leaders who are working to end the conflagration that is consuming the world. International peace and the end of the war are brought appreciably nearer by the entrance of the United States into the conflict, in the view of the Pontiff.
